Description

The Reality of Life on the Coast

It's 8 PM on a warm Tuesday evening. You've just stepped out of your private elevator directly onto your terrace, sinking into the bubbling hot tub with a refreshing glass of chilled Arinto white wine in hand. The Atlantic Ocean stretches before you, unobstructed, painted in the intense orange and purple tones of an Algarve sunset. This isn't a vacation scenario; it's your daily life. Situated in a protected, traffic-free coastal enclave, this newly built villa with sea views near Ponta da Piedade, spanning 300 square meters, forms the perfect bridge between pure natural beauty and high-tech modern living.

Perfect Flow Between Interior and Exterior

On the lower level, the barrier between inside and outside simply disappears. Floor-to-ceiling double-glazed sliding glass doors draw the salty ocean breeze through the open-plan living area. Afternoon light reflects off the wide-plank flooring and elegant Silestone kitchen countertops, guiding your gaze directly toward the private pool. It's a space designed for barefoot mornings and effortless entertaining, built by one of the Algarve's most prestigious developers to ensure that every acoustic and thermal detail is perfectly calibrated for your comfort year-round.

Elevated Private Quarters

As the day winds down, the house's private elevator silently takes you to the bedroom zone. Here, four spacious bedrooms offer absolute refuge. Imagine waking to the sound of distant waves in a sun-flooded master suite, stepping onto radiant stone flooring in one of four meticulously finished private bathrooms, before your day even begins. It's a luxury 4-bedroom villa with an elevator in Lagos that anticipates exactly how you want to live in your own home.

The Neighborhood

Your new home is anchored in one of the most exclusive and tranquil residential areas in the Faro district, completely free from the usual seasonal traffic. The world-famous cliffs and golden limestone rock formations of Ponta da Piedade are just a few hundred meters from your front door—the perfect setting for a peaceful early morning walk before the world wakes up. When you're in the mood for culture, fresh seafood, or your morning espresso, the cobblestone streets of Lagos's historic center are just 1.5 km away, a pleasant walk.
